Raising standards through globally recognised qualifications

CIPS Qualification Programmes can be taken and delivered anywhere in the world.

Our programmes feature a balance of technical and general management skills, with an emphasis on driving individual and organisational performance. Programmes are delivered by our expert tutors and students will be supported at every step of their learning journey.

What qualifications are available?

We offer a range of academic qualifications with a route to becoming MCIPS. Take a look below at the qualifications we can offer to your team.

○ Level 2 Certificate in Procurement and Supply

The ideal qualification for those just starting out in their career or if procurement and supply is part of their job role.

○ Level 3 Advanced Certificate in Procurement and Supply

Designed for those already in an operational role and equips them to carry out key procurement and supply tasks.

○ Level 4 Diploma in Procurement and Supply

For those moving into junior and middle management procurement roles, or anyone supervising the procurement function. This is the highest entry level for CIPS Qualifications.

○ Level 5 Advanced Diploma in Procurement and Supply

For senior buyers, contract and supply chain managers, this qualification gives those the expertise to improve organisational procurement and to fulfil objectives.

○ Level 6 Professional Diploma in Procurement and Supply

Aimed at senior procurement professionals and heads of departments, this qualification is equivalent to the final year of a degree and will lead to the internationally recognised designation, MCIPS.

How are programmes structured?

All of our programmes benefit from a dedicated programme manager to support every aspect of delivery. Programmes are then tailored to maximise learning, optimise pass rates and drive value from available budget.

Maximising the learning

We design programmes with a customised balance of face-to-face and virtual study support to suit the needs of your business and your team. This blended approach can include eLearning, workshops, webinars and course books, all helping to stimulate learning and minimise time away from the organisation.

Optimising training spend

This flexible, personalised approach enables you to gain employees with independently accredited, globally recognised qualifications whilst optimising the value of your training spend.

Simplifying the learning journey

Our professional programme managers enable students to focus more time on their studies by simplifying each step of the learning journey, managing the ordering of books, applying for membership and registering for exams on their behalf.

The Benefits

About CIPS the Chartered Institute of Procurement and Supply

We are CIPS

The global membership organisation for procurement and supply, driving positive change across our profession. We provide education and tools for members. And we are the voice and standard, building a network across the globe.

Quality guaranteed

Our qualifications are recognised by Ofqual in England and regulators in various countries, demonstrating that they meet specific quality standards.

The Global Standard

CIPS Global Standard in procurement and supply, which is freely available, sets the benchmark for what good looks like in the profession.

A commercial organisation

CIPS helps governments, development agencies, and businesses around the world to excel in procurement and supply, supporting them to improve and deliver results and raise standards.

A global community

With offices in Africa, Asia, Australia, the Middle East, Europe and USA we lead in education and training, we provide information and tools, and we help build capability within organisations. Through all our work, we are the voice and standard, building a global network to power our profession.

How can CIPS help?

No matter where you are in the world or what sector you operate in, CIPS can help to ensure that your procurement and supply teams:

- Have the skills to spend your organisation's budget wisely and manage suppliers effectively
- Comply with relevant legislation
- Have the tools to build ethical and sustainable supply chains
- Continually evolve and deliver results against increasingly challenging targets
- Add value to the business and get the recognition they deserve
