Our commitment to you

CIPS, is the professional body for the procurement and supply profession, using its global standard, network, education, expertise, and public charter. It's through these resources, we ensure that procurement and supply professionals have the skills and responsibility to deliver the sustainability goals of their organisations.

As an Awarding Body, we design the curriculum and assess qualifications, ensuring they receive recognition from regulatory authorities worldwide.

Our qualifications are formally recognised and included within the regulatory frameworks of an increasing number of countries such as the UK (England, Wales and Northern Ireland), Dubai, Trinidad & Tobago, Botswana and Ghana. Further information on this recognition and the details of corresponding qualifications levels for other international qualifications frameworks are on page 15.

Our members have the confidence in our regulated qualifications, which reliably indicate the standard of knowledge, skills and understanding that you, as a learner, are required to demonstrate.

You can expect:

- Professional learning programmes for our qualifications delivered by approved study centres worldwide. We conduct annual checks and award an approval status to each, ensuring they meet our regulatory requirements and provide high teaching standards for CIPS learners.
- A choice of flexible study options to suit all learning styles.
- A choice of topics and business disciplines to reflect the expanding nature of the profession
- Assessment opportunities throughout the year using the latest thinking and practice in terms of assessment
- Formal, recognised certification of your achievements to use as a tool for progression in your career and more broadly within the profession.

Your pathway to success

Why choose CIPS qualifications?
