

Develop your people to succeed

Your greatest competitive advantage is your people. To outthink, outpace and outperform the competition, you need a qualified team.

Whether your team is local or spread across the globe, we offer virtual or face to face training and self-study options.

Our academic programmes are delivered by MCIPS professionals, and an expert support team keeping learners on track.

How our programmes are structured?

Our fully managed qualification programmes are designed to increase learning. Led by a dedicated Programme Manager, we handle every administrative detail from applying for membership and dispatching study guides to exam enrolment. Our students can focus entirely on their development.

○ Maximising the learning

A mix of workshops, webinars, eLearning, and course books designed to stimulate growth while minimising time away from the business.

○ Optimising training spend

Our approach enables you to develop employees with independently accredited, globally recognised qualifications whilst optimising the value of your training spend.
